COMBINATION IDEAS

Galore for Growers

You've evaluated your sales, noted what worked and what didn't, and are looking forward to trying new ideas for 2016 to boost your profits even higher. Maybe you are blessed to have an extraordinarily gifted associate on board who designs incredibly creative combinations for your hanging basket and container programs. Or maybe you're more like the rest of us who could use a little inspiration now and then.

The 2016 Combination Guide from Proven Winners is designed to give growers easy, successful, popular combination recipes that are proven to thrive and sell. We are continually researching what consumers want, analyzing retail sales, and listening to feedback from growers who are never shy about sharing their successes and misses. Putting all of those pieces together, we've compiled this helpful guide to lend a creative hand so you'll have your best year yet with Proven Winners.

HOW WE SELECT WINNING COMBINATIONS

What are we looking for in our national combinations? Super easy, gorgeous combinations using proven varieties that work for all types of growers nationwide.

NATIONAL SPRING COMBINATION SELECTION

The top criteria for inclusion in our national spring combination are frost/cold tolerance and earliness to flower. While that traditionally meant using varieties like Diascia and Nemesia, advancements in breeding more earlier flowering varieties with cold tolerance have transformed the look of our spring combinations.

Consumer-preferred purples and pinks often adorn our national spring combination which is featured prominently in our consumer ads and Gardener's Idea Book early each spring, building excitement and creating demand just before retailers open their doors.

NATIONAL SUMMER COMBINATION SELECTION

As the warmer months of summer roll in, consumers' color preferences change to a hotter palette. Our national summer combination reflects their desires by including heat loving varieties in warm reds, oranges and yellows.

Growers and Retailers had so much success with the national spring combination that they asked us to create a national summer combination. By offering a new combination for summer, growers encourage their retail customers to bring in fresh product for summer sales. Consumers will see the national summer combination advertised online, through social media channels, and in our Gardener's Idea Book.

NATIONAL FALL COMBINATION SELECTION

New for Fall 2016, we are extending our national combination program by offering a fall combination. Varieties selected to thrive in fall are day length neutral or naturally very long blooming, display increased cold tolerance, and can tolerate more moisture.

The fall combination's jewel toned color palette is reflective of the season using deep purples, oranges and gold tones.

As with the national summer combination, Growers and retailers asked us for a fall combination that would help to bring customers back in to decorate their porches for the fall harvest season. Our fall combination coordinates perfectly with pumpkins, hay bales, and other fall favorites.
